BIG LOAN ASSOCIATION

For the Merchant Who Doesn't Advertise.

In these days of higher effi-ciency in the management of affairs, where do you stand, Mr. Merchant?

WE invite you to become an advertiser in this newspaper; to join, if you have not already done so, the progressive merchants of this vicinity who have something of merit to sell and something of interest to say about it.

Many a tale is yet untold about your store or your busi-ness which it placed before our readers would rejuvenate your whole establishment.

The game is out in the open

The livest merchants and manufacturers tell the public of the merit and suberlority of their wares.

The most successful enterprises in this city are so constantly before the public in the columns of THE GAZETTE and other first class newspapers that when one thinks of any of the many articles of daily trade his mind turns instantly to one of the stores or one of the particular makes whose advertisements are set forth in these pages. pages.

GAZETTE PRINTING CO. VALUE OF ROADS.

The intrinsic value of good roads to any community has been demonstrated by the history of business during ing the years since the first settlers moved into the western country. The old Romans built government roads along which they could move their armies quickly during their rule of the world of their age. These roads toworld of their age. These roads to-day stand as a monument of the early road-builders art. Perhaps it was the lesson taught by these pioneers in road-building that has been handed through the ages and is responsible for the excellent thoroughfares of England today. In the early days of this continent the necessity for good roads for travel was realized and al-most the first mark of a settlement most the first mark of a settlement was the passage of the old Indian trail and the creation of a team roadway. Then followed the old-fashioned turnpikes, the toll roads, kept up by the payment of a few pence by each team driving over it; the government road-ways to the west, notably that through the Cumberland Gap which brought about the settlement of the Ohio valley and incidentally paved the way for the settlements in Wisconsin and oth-er western states. Where the waterways did not run in the proper direc tion, roads had to be built and main tained. Then came the steam roads with their narrow lines of iron rails and gradually they superseded the old-fashioned method of driving from town to town and the roads fell into disuse. With the advent of the automobile the increased ownership, not confined to any one class of citizens, the questioned traced model. the question of good roads has again been forcibly brought to the attention

The state fair problem will be well et forth by the committee that visits Madison next week. Janesville has something to offer that no other city in the state can boast of. Excellent grounds, one of the fastest tracks in the middle west, and unlimited ground for extension of the fair grounds in hey are located here.

Nothing that could exploit Janes-ville's business interests to a better advantage than the civic parade that is now planned for during the coming convention of commercial travelers, Every manufacturer and merchant should be represented in the line of march as well as every civic society.

Evidently there are a lot of dry bones rattling in the city affairs just at present and after the dust has all cleared away there may be some radi cal changes discovered in handling city matters. It all takes time and patience is urged on all to await results and not mere hearsay evidence

W. Tobin, who was sentenced to seven days in the county jail by Judge Fifield Wednesday, morning because he could not pay a fine of $3 and costs when convicted of intoxication was released from jail on the promise of a friend to pay his fine, instead of starting for his home in Leyden he loitered about town, began drinking, and in the evening was found by a police officer and placed under arrest. On being arrainged again this morning he plead guilty, but complained that the officer intercepted him while he was on his way home. He was sentenced to five days in the county jail. Hiram Schuman, charged with intoxication, was told to hurry home or go to jail for ten days. Nelson Parke for a similar offence was fined $5 and costs which he paid.

HOLD BATTING PRACTICE , TO PREPARE FOR GAME

The local high school baseball squad held a long practice yesterday afternoon at the Driving Park, Coach Curtis saw the need of some batting practice, so he spent much of the time in testing the eyes of the men in smashing the horsehide. The team showed a marked improvement in batting, and a hard hitting team is about to face Palmyra on Saturday at that place. The game is the locals last of the season, as was announced by Coach Curtis yesterday. Graduation is but two weeks away, and it would not pay to arrange another game.

Joseph and Benjamin. Gen. xiiii. Golden Text — He that loveth his brother abideth in the light. I John

(1) Verses 1-7—Which has the greater tendency to draw men to God, and why, famine or plenty? (This is one of the questions which may be answered in writing by members of the club.)

(2.) What part had Judah taken in selling Joseph into Egypt?

(3.) When in Egypt the first time they had told Joseph the simple truth about their father and Benjamin. Show how the truth always harmonizes and that Jacob was wrong in wishing they had kept back the truth about Benjamin.

(4.) Verses 8-10-Can there be true repentance without making such restitution as we are able?

(5.) In what way did Judah show that he was truly penitent?(6.) Verses 11-14—What was the pressure or motive which finally induced Jacob to let Benjamin go to Egypt with the other brothers?

(7.) If we receive too much change in making a purchase or are paid too much when we check money out of the bank what should we do with it,

(8.) Would you say or not, and why, that a man is a common thief who keeps what does not belong to him even if he has come into its possession innocently?.

(9.) Do parents, as a rule, love their grownup sons as tenderly as when they were little children? Why or why not? (10.) Verse 15 What is more horrible than famine, and can you state some of the tragedies that have resulted from famines?

(11.) Whatever may have been thought proper in those days, is it right in these days or not, and why, to make presents in order to influence those with whom we do business?

anticipation or the realization of a dreaded event? Why? (13.) Verses 16-18-What effect did the sight of Benjamin have upon Joseph and why was it so?

good, with clean consciences, would they have been afraid to meet Joseph? (15.) How is it that people, as a rule,

(14.) If these men had been truly are more partial and hospitable to their relatives than they are to others?

(16.) Verses 19-22—What spirit did it show and what wisdom did it manifest that these men brought up the matter of the money which they had found in their sacks to Joseph's steward at the first meeting with him?

(17.) Verses 23.25-What is the ev dence to the true children of God that events are generally better than their fears and even better than their faith? (18.) If we are living right, is it our privilege to take everything that comes to us as the very best thing that could happen to us? Why? (19.) Is it our privilege to have 'peace" all the time and our duty neve to "fear"? (20.) Verses 26-34-Would you say or not, and why, that it is ever right for us to dissimulate as Joseph did? 🎊 (21.) Why was it that Benjamin more than any of the others so stirred the emotions of Joseph? (22.) From this story would you judge that Joseph and his brethren got into good social mood with each other. and if so how do you account for sub sequent events?

OFFICERS PLEASED WITH FLASHLIGHTS

That the flashlight police call system employed in Beloit can be successfully adapted to Janesville conditions is the bellef of Mayor James. A Fathers and Chief of Police Ransom who last night made a trip to Beloit for the purpose of inspecting its working. That city has three flashlights at strategic points on the streets, and one just outside the police station. When a telephone call comes to the station at high the lights or a part of them can be switched on by the station at night the lights or a part of them can be switched on by the officer in charge. The patrolmen are expected to call up the station as soon as they see the lights flashed and received their assignments if any. The system also makes it possible to call the officer nearest to the place where he is wanted.

As the flashlight call installation is probable that one will be installed at an early date. Should it be decide later to install the more complete and expensive system, the investment in a complete police telegraph system, it is probable that one will be installed at an early date. Should it be decide later to install the more complete and expensive system, the investment in the flashlights will prove no obstacle. According to present plans one light will be installed at the corner of West Milwaukee and Main streets, another at the corner of the station. A flash at the fourth in front of the station. The Evening Chit-Chat BY RUTH CAMERON

HO am I? Again and again that question comes to me, bombarding the fortress of my impersonality:

"Won't you please tell me all about yourself," writes one letter friend. "I wish you would use your column some day in telling who you are, writes another.

Good friends, I thank you for your interest. It is very sweet of you to be but if you please I'd rather remain impersonal. I don't want to tell you how old I am and whether I'm married or not, where I went to college, and how many brothers and sisters I have, and whether I'm light or dark, and all that sort of thing. I want you each to settle these things as suits you best. Please imagine me the kind of person you want me to be, and let it go at that.

What I want most is to be a mental friend to all my.

What I want most is to be a mental friend to all my readers, suggesting lines of thought to them, and when they are willing to take the pen and the pains, receiving suggestions from them in turn.

they are willing to take the pen and the pains, receiving suggestions from them in turin.

There is one personal thing about myself that I do want to say, however, and say it as emphatically as I know how, I am a woman I don't see' how anyone can doubt it. When I read over my own things they often sound ultra-feminine to me, and yet again and, again I hear the rumor, "Everyone says Ruth Cameron is a public long ago discovered that some woman's column was written by a man, and was so impressed by this discovery that thereafter they became suspicious of all women's columns. Now that's all nonsense. Listen, my triends, I've been in the newspaper business as a good, while and am in a position to know something about the matter. I know of a great manily women's columns, and I women word than one case of a man writing under a woman's name.

Just one word nione. The last letter which I received on this subject some days than others." Perhaps I'm illogical but it seems to me that is good proof of the opposite. If the best thoughts of several people think different folks write under the name because it it preserves the leather and makes the daily cutput of an ordinary human being subject to bright days and dull good, bad and langifferent by turns?

No, that's a mistake. I'm one person, and I'm a woman, and for the spirate of the may be made in the form of a ten or twelve-inch silp that can be drawn over and tacked down then when it is solled it.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) Do you consider it an engagement when a girl lets a boy wear her society pin? (2) Do you consider it proper for a girl to allow a boy to, "roughhouse' and be slushy with her? Some of the boys think we are stiff because we won't allow them to, and we want your opinion. (3) How many dances should a girl give her partner at a cance?

(1) It is not an engagement, but she should not let him wear it unless she is engaged to him. (2) One can be joily and have a good time with the boys and still respect one's a ways they insuited us and because welf. But a girl who lets a boy get. Slushy and "roughthouse", with her will soon earn the boy's disrespect and in time, will lose her self-integration of the word with them. As we got they will soon earn the boy's disrespect. No boy really likes a cheap, spect, and in time, will lose her self-integration of them; how wan we get them to girl girls. (3) I presume? Sou mean your like them; how can we get them to girls. (3) I presume? Sou mean your with them. Do you think they had much respect for us? We are decent with them. Do you think they had much respect for us? We are decent with them. Do you think they had much respect for us? We are decent with them. Do you think they had much respect for us? We are decent with them.

Dear Mrs Thompson (1) I am fifteen years old and about live feet itall. Am I tall and old enough to wear long trousers? (2) I am to be confirmed soon. I will invite my relatives to dinner. What would you advise my mother to serve?

(1) Yes, my boy. (2) For a regular dinner the following menu would be seasonable:

Cream of Asparagus Soup. Fried Spring Chicken Baked Sweet Potatoes

Egg and Lettuce Salad

Soft Boiled Custard with Chopped Nuts.

Seventy-Fifth Anniversary of Congre gational Church Will be Ob Served .- Dr. Beaton on Arrangement Committee.

Milton, May 23.—At the seventysecond convention of Congregational churches held in Williams Bay yesterday, it was "unanimously decided that the convention should unite with the Congregational church of Milton in helping to fittingly celebrate its seventy-fifth anniversary. A committee consisting of Dr. Beaton of Janesville, President E. D. Eaton of Beloit, Rev. A. O. Stevens, moderator.
Rev. J. Lloyd Smith, registrator, and Rev. W. A. Leighton, pastor of the church was given full power to make the necessary—arrangements with President Evans: of Ripon as an advisory member. It is interesting to note that the Milton Congregational church is the oldest in Rock county of any denomination, and that Rock Prairie Presbyterian church and the First Congregational church of Janesville are branches of this original church.

In their first dance, holding her close as if to shield her from all the world, ne caned to mind the had omach Versailles when together they had world, he called to mind the day at wandered through the gardens. Then he had repeated some verses from the book he had given her on her birthday. Now as they danced he whispered:

"Do you remember

Spring in the hills, Beloved, On the side of a meadowed slope: And love in our hearts, Beloved, Love and Spring and Hope."

"I remember. We were going out there again, but you never came back; and so I went alone."

"I wish you had taken our book," he said. He always referred to the book of verses as being their joint property. "It-would have told you what I was not there to say."

Gloria smiled. Never a word had been said, but each understood. "I knew one thing the book said," she confessed. "It was what I saidand said more times than one:

Come over the sea to me, to me, Come ever the sea to me. The little ships go sailing by But never a ship brings thee!"

They danced, forgetful of everything but that they were together. A man had cried in the wilderness of the world for his mate and she had an

Wright would have gone further, have made a formal declaration, but first he wanted several things settled. He felt that he could not stay in Belmont if he married Gloria. How to get rid of the paper was a question. He hoped through a newspaper broker to trade it for one in some other place. Then he and Gloria could begin life there together. The News was begin-ning to make money, paying its way and leaving something for future payments on the property. Best of all there was no fight on his hands which would hold him in Belmont, Mrs. Gilbert came into Gloria's room to kiss her good night after the ball. When they had talked over the affair for an hour the girl cried in the ecstasy of her joy.

"Oh, Mrs. Gilbert, tonight I am the happiest girl in the whole wide world." On that very night Alderman Grunewald introduced an ordinance glving the Belmont Interurban Railway, a new corporation, right of way down Maple Avenue and making provision that a small depot should be provided for the convenience of patrons at Benton Park.

CHAPTER VIII.

When Wright reached his office the morning after the ball, he found his attorney, Arthur Morrison, waiting for him. He had been drawn to Morrison the first time he had met him and had asked him to take care of the paper's legal business. In this his judg- who had consented to the line and den friendship, for the young lawyer was worthy of his confidence. Like Judge Gilbert, he had risen from an humble home, but unlike the adviser of Belmont corporations he had made his way independently of the malign influences which constantly seem to seek to attract young men of talent. who follow the law as a profession. To him both as his legal adviser and his friend, Wright had talked freely and had rejoiced to learn that Morrison's ideals and hopes for Belmont were the same as his own.

"Even if you hadn't asked me to watch things with you while you are still a stranger to Belmont," Morrison began, "I think I would have come to you. Last night while we were en joying ourselves a bill was introduced in the council for a car line down Maple Avenue.

"I saw an account of it in the Banner, and thought it strange nothing had been made public before it was introduced. Who wants the franchise?"

"They're under cover. It's the Belmont Interurban Company, a New Jersey corporation, and the men named as incorporators are only dummies.

"That isn't usual, is it, with honest "I don't know any more about it than you do, but you'd better investihe read it in the proof, and was warmed with a self-satisfied glow to "When does the bill have its next reading?" asked Wright, after censidering what was the paper's best move. "Not until Tuesday night."

"That gives us five days." If we make a noise won't they call a special meeting and push it through?" "Kerr isn't likely to do that. He's Interested, I suppose, but how?" "We'll get busy today," Wright said decisively. "A few pointed questions on the front page may bring them out from under cover."

In the conference which ensued the two men discussed every possible phase of the question, yet they never dreamed that it was part of the stockyards scheme. What aroused susplcion as much as anything else was that there was nothing they could find on which to base suspicion. When Morrison left it was with the intention of scrutinizing a copy of the proposed ordinance carefully. Wright sent a reporter to interview Alderman Grunewald, and all other re porters were instructed to find our what the public thought of it and any definite facts that could be brought to light. The city editor himself took in hour off to go to the office of baum & Rosenbaum, who it was learned had given Grunewald the bill to present for them.

The drag net which the News spread did not seem productive of results calculated to bring anything to light. Alderman Grunewald had introduced it at the request of his good friends would call in the evening. They had nothing about it.

Rosenbaum & Rosenbaum said that the proposed franchise spoke for itself, and that the road would prove of inestimable benefit to Belmont, since in the near future it would be extended to Corona, and all the people of that little town and the villages along, the line would do their shopping in Bel mont. The incorporators were Chicago/men with plenty of capital back of Wright telegraphed a Chicago news agency to find out who the incorpora they?" tors were. At his suggestion the city editor tried to get Kerr at Esmeralda Springs by telephone, but was unsuccessful.

Only one clue was found which of itself was suspicious, and it was not one which could be used that afternoon. The courthouse reporter had dropped into the county surveyor's office, and talked about surveying in general and the work in Belmont county in particular. Was anything going on just then? This elicited the reply that the spring was not far enough advanced for the usual work, but that the stock-yards company had had men out. What were they doing? They were seeing how they could save their tracks along the river and rearranging the quarantine tracks for Texas cattle which were by themselves to the east of the main yards. This was all the courthouse man brought back to the office, but it was duly presented to Wright by the city editor.

That afternoon Belmont rubbed its eyes as it looked at the front page of the News. In the last column under an extended head was a story about the proposed car line down Maple avenue. It was not replete with facts and figures, but it asked a great many questions and contained several interviews which said nothing. Even the property owners along Maple avenue ment had not been warned by a sud then been pladged to secrecy until the

There's no more fussing with plasters that press on the corn, no more salves that take of the surrounding flesh, no more bandages. No more knives, sites or razors that make corns grow, and cause danger of blood poison. "GETS-IT" is equally harmless to healthy or irritated flesh. Wright still puzzled over the map "What are those red lines crossing Maple Avenue about two blocks south of Bluff Street?" was his next ques-thing for Belmont-if the company would confine itself to good works. The most objectionable thing was the lack of frankness on the part of the men back of the enterprise. Here was a corporation seeking to serve the public and not taking the public into its confidence.

While Morrison and the publisher of the News were canvassing the situation, a telegram from the Chicago News Agency was delivered to Wright.

"I suspected as much," replied Wright. "What right of way have they?"

Morrison went to the map of Belmont on the wall and located the city terminus of the proposed line.

"Here's where they start on their own tracks," he explained. "You see, there's a provision in the charter of the Belmont Traction Company where by any interurban line can use its tracks into the heart of the city upon payment of a fair rental. est treasure of my life."

The young man was duly impressed. Then during the few moments of impressive silence that followed he heard the patter, patter of rain against the window pane.

Gracious me!" he exclaimed "it's raining and I haven't my umbrella. May I borrow yours to get to the station?"

"Young man" said the fond your.

"Young man," said the fond parent; "I wouldn't trust anybody on earth with my umbrella."

The laziest man is reported in Arkansas, where he conducts a shoe store in a little town. A woman entered his shop one day and said she wanted to buy a pair of shoes. The lazy man who was sitting on a box at one end of his establishment, looked at her, yawned wearily, and then said: "I can't wait on you today. Come in some time when I'm standin' up."

Mrs. Oyle Blank advertised for a maid and got a lot of answers. From the cloud of applicants she chose one. And ere long there was trouble in the family. The maid had been employed elsewhere, and she knew the difference. On a day of the days, the lady became acrimonious; "Dou you call yourself a lady's maid?" It used to ma'am," replied the servant, "before I worked for you."

Farmers Read Classified Advertising

One of the reasons why the Gazette Classified page has grown to its present proportions, is the fact that it is read and used by people living in the country. Fully half of the Wants in each day's Gazette are from farm homes.

Farms and Farm Homes, Live Stock of all kinds, Machinery and Tools, Seeds and Plants, Farms to Rent and Farms to Sell, Farm Help and a score of other things, all that appeal to the Farmer or the Farmer's Family.

The fact that more than half of the circulation of The Gazette goes into the country homes of Rock County, makes it an ideal medium for this class of advertising. A farmer with a horse for sale may reach practically every other farmer in the county IN ONE DAY AND AT AN EXPENSE OF BUT 25c. Results are almost sure

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, May 23, three in number besides / a baggage 1873.—Train Derailed: The Janesville car, were hurled down the embank accommodation train from Chicago on the Chicago and Northwestern rail pletely over before striking the botroad, due here at seven-twenty was tom. The cars struck right side up thrown from the track last night just tom. The cars struck right side up and a half from the center of the city. There were inside the city limits, about a mile and a half from the center of the city. At the spot where the accident of curred the track runs along parallel to a gravel embankment some eighteen leet high. The heavy rain of yester day had washed out a portion of the gravel just over the culvert causing the track to settle and break through. Approaching the defective spots from the south a curve hid it from the view of the engineer until he was close up on it. As soon as he perceived the danger, the engineer J. A. Tripp of this city threw on the brakes but the train was under such headway that it could not be brought to a stand in some unknown farmer's field. This film to prevent the catastrophe. As time to prevent the catastrophe. As individual farmer's field. This time to prevent the catastrophe. As individual farmer is an enthusiastic the locomotive struck the break in follower of Mrs. Van Cott from that he track the couplings broke and it time on and we hope that she will stay leaped across the space to safety. The longer and make a vigorous effort to has however shared a worse fate, convert more of our citizens.
